It's simple, this is not an issue that the government should be wasting tax payer dollars to debate. This is an issue about service. Instead of having to waste time to find the information or entertainment that I want to listen to and being within the broadcast range, I have made a choice. I choose to listen to a service that broadcasts no matter where I travel in the United States. It is also with this same freedom of choice that I can listen to the local broadcasters when I desire to do so. If the NAB wants to limit the ability of the listeners to listen to only the broadcasters that they believe we should, then I choose to not listen at all. This is a nation built upon the rights and freedoms of individuals by individuals. I am tired of the government or any other group of individuals that feel that it is their duty to censor my rights.
